THE PRESBYTERIAN SOCIAL.

It Was a Success and Netted the Society a Neat Little Sum.

Although last Friday evening proved to be rather disagreeable as to weather it seemed to be a good thing for the Presbyterians as everybody stopped in the store in the McKenna block to get their supper, and a dainty spread it was. The ladies of the society had worked energetically to get up this, their first public attempt at entertainment, and the result was very pleasing and encouraging. The neatly spread tables and the repast, beautifully cooked and served, consisting of oysters, bread and butter, cold meats, salads, cakes, doughnuts and coffee, were all thoroughly appreciated by a hungry public. The ladies took the trouble to engage a piano and also the Yale orchestra and the music greatly enhanced the evening's entertainment.

NEWS OF A WEEK.

A Budget of Happenings in and Around St. Clair County.

The new Sanilac Centre roller process mill is completed and now in running order.

The Hoyt Dry Goods Company, a big firm of Saginaw, will move to Cleveland, O.

Luther C. Cummings, one of the best known lumber and log scalers in Saginaw valley, died last week.

A new postoffice established in the northeastern part of Lamotte township, Sanilac county, is given the name of Koko.

A new M. E. parsonage will be built in Armada. It is promised that the building will be a credit to the church and town.

S. B. Coddington, of Capac, lost a horse last week by its getting its head fastened in the hay crib where it choked to death.

Francis Jarvis, an old resident of Armada since 1865, died at the home of his brother in Detroit last Saturday at the age of 84 years.

Someone entered the barn of Benj. Golding, at Capac, one night recently, and carried off eighteen skunk skins, worth from $20 to $25.

Thomas Shannahan died recently in the St. Clair county poor house. He had been there for 12 years and came originally from Brockway.

At North Branch a leap year association has been organized, the object being to get all the members married off before the end of the year.

The stock of general merchandise of Stewart & Streeter, of Memphis, has been sold by Deputy Sheriff Baty for $1.50 over and above the mortgages.

John Nepper, an old and respected citizen of Armada, died last Friday at the age of 71 years. Mr. Nepper had been a well known funeral director for many years.

Lenox is now protected against fire, a company having been organized and a hose cart and 600 feet of hose turned over to the department by the upper town of Richmond.

Dr. D. McNaughton, of Argyle Centre, and Dr. Totten, of Downingtown, have pleaded guilty to selling drugs without the necessary diploma of a registered pharmacist and were each fined $10 and costs.

Fire destroyed the entire plant of the Michigan Heading and Hoop Co. at Coleman, January 22. This was the principal industry of the village and puts forty men out of work. The loss is $25,000. Insurance $10,000.

C. Oakes, a blacksmith at Berville, was rudely awakened from his sleep by the explosion of a bomb thrown into his room by some malicious person unknown. Mr. Oakes was fortunately not hurt but things were considerably shaken up.

In the heat of passion Eddie Nye, of Romeo struck down Fred Eldred with the runner of his skate. The blow cut a deep gash in Eldred's head rendering him unconscious for some time and nearly being the death of him. Nye is now repentant.

While Fred Koepfgen, keeper of the St. Clair county poor house, was making some repairs around the windmill recently, he was struck in the face with an ax he was using. His upper jaw was broken, also one tooth, and a bad cut received on his chin.

There are 595 native born inhabitants of St. Clair county above 10 years of age who can neither read nor write. There are 1,063 foreign born inhabitants who can do neither. In the county there are 831 people above 21 years of age who can neither read nor write.

Alfred Kinna, who killed George Betts in a Port Sanilac saloon row, was Friday last found guilty of murder in the second degree in the Sanilac county circuit court. Judge Beach sentenced him Saturday morning to seventeen years at Jackson. Kinna took his sentence much more calmly than the jurors' verdict when he sobbed pitifully. His only request to the court was that he be allowed to see his sick wife and family before being taken away.

LANGE-GRANDY NUPTIALS.

A Well Known Sault Ste Marie Couple Married.

Thursday night, January 23rd at 8 o'clock, the nuptials of August C. Lange and Miss Laura Grandy were quietly solemnized at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Conley, on Division street. Bishop P. T. Rowe performed the ceremony. No guests were present other than Mr. and Mrs. Conley, Mrs. Rowe and Emil Lange, the brother of the groom. After the ceremony a nice wedding supper was served. The newly married couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. The bride has resided in the Soo for a number of years, and has a sweet and amiable disposition which has endeared her to a large circle of friends. The groom is a member of the merchant tailoring firm of Aitken & Lange, and has a host of well-wishers in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Lange will reside in the Soo National Bank building during the winter. - Sault Ste Marie News.

Home Culture.

There has come to our notice recently, an enterprise which has been organized for the purpose of educating, in their own homes, the class of people who either have not had opportunity in the past, or who do not now have an opportunity to study in the public schools. To this beneficent organization we are more than pleased to extend our hearty greeting, and wish it all the success the undertaking deserves. The one thing which this country needs is a more general education for the working people. It is this idea that has led many great thinkers to advocate home study, particularly where outside instruction is not convenient. The odd half and quarter hours, if properly applied, will give anyone who desires it, a liberal education. It is the man that devotes a few spare minutes each day to study, who advances from day laborer to foreman; who becomes the master mechanic; the head of the office.

Few persons seem to be aware, in regard to the subject of education, how largely a willing student can dispense with external aid. The opinion, also common, that to learn anything in science, art, or any of the higher branches, beyond the first rudiments, the learner must place himself in the hands of a gifted professor, and carry on his labor in the atmosphere of the classroom, is a mischievous delusion. While we would not decry our magnificent system of public schools, we believe that some system of home training is absolutely necessary in order that men in all classes and conditions of life may fit themselves for life's work. Not only is it necessary for our citizens to understand something of what is commonly called the higher branches of education, but it is also an essential qualification that they should have a thorough training in business methods, including business laws, business arithmetic, shorthand, and book-keeping. In short, to achieve success in life, it is necessary that men be trained in that which will prove the most serviceable to them in their vocations.

Within the past few years many prominent educators have endeavored to devise means which would supply this great public need. The remarkable movement known as University Extension, the formation of Chautauqua circles, the establishment of night schools for laboring men, are all evidences of this desire to bring self-education within the reach of every citizen. The most recent attempt to solve the great problem of home education is the establishment of the Co-operative Educational Association at Ann Arbor, Michigan, the seat of the great University of Michigan. This Association having for its purpose the aid and encouragement of those who desire to pursue home study, is desirous of extending its work over the greater part of the United States, and in order that it may do so, desires the hearty co-operation of educators and studious people everywhere. Its officers will be pleased to correspond with any who may be interested, and to furnish all information in regard to the work they propose to carry on. Their announcement appears elsewhere in this paper, and we ask our readers to investigate by corresponding with the Association.
